PYSANKY EGG DECORATING

We are thrilled to welcome local artist Daria Bonomini as she teaches us the Art of Pysanky Egg Dyeing.

Pysanky refers to the ancient Ukrainian art of decorating eggs by means of a wax resist, or batik, method that produces elaborate, colorful, symbolic designs. Although now mainly used to decorate Ukrainian Easter eggs, pysanky are much older than the Christian holiday, dating back to a time of sun worship. Adopted from the pagan tradition by Christians, pysanky were imbued with symbolism and superstition, and tradition has upheld the customs and rituals of this ancient art.
